

Viewed By Thousands

A steadily falling mist failed to dampen the spirit of thousands who lined the parade route Monday to view the parade concluding Andover's four day observance of the 325th anniversary of its incorporation as a town.

The parade began with the traditional Memorial Day tribute as the marchers moved from Park street to Memorial Auditorium for the main service of the day.

Following the exercises the anniversary parade began, the many bands, marching units, and floats joining in the line of march at the Doherty school parking lot.

The parade, organized and directed by Veterans Agent Elmer S. Ober was witnessed by one of the largest crowds ever to assemble for such an activity.

Figures ranged from 15,000 to 20,000 along the parade route down Main street.

The parade was led by the Aleppo Temple Mounted Patrol, with Selectman Sidney P. White, chairman of the anniversary committee in front carrying the American flag.

Following the patrol was the Shriner's costumed band.

In the line of march was a police escort led by Police Chief David L. Nicoll, members of the board of selectmen, present and past, members of the town clergy and dignitaries, including local, state and county officials.

The Andover High school band was preceded by Supt. of Schools Dr. Kenneth R. Seifert, Asst. Supt. Vaughn Clapp, and former Town Manager J. Maynard Austin is planning appointment soon of a Recreation Study committee.

The manager said the committee will work on problems relating to the town's overall recreational program.

Austin said that while managers, as a rule, shy away from having committees for studying problems of this nature, he feels that such

Board Reverses Busing Decision

The school committee has reinstated the Andover schools' customary busing radius, but the necessary $10,000 restoration to the transportation budget, will not come from the salary budget, as proposed at last week's heated school committee meeting.

Instead, the administration will eke as much of it as possible from any unexpended funds in other expense budget items, then come to October Town Meeting with a deficit budget for the rest, a move blessed Tuesday night by Finance Committee Chairman Dr. Albert Greenberg, as "the logical approach."

Greenberg said the Finance Committee couldn't have taken from the reserve fund anyway, to restore transportation funds the town meeting had specifically voted to cut; even if he and others on the FinCom thought the town made a mistake (he had urged keeping the computer), and the town's decision to cut the school budget could not qualify as an "unforeseen emergency." There were unforeseen expenses, he said, such as the $8,000 rise in Blue Cross - Blue Shield costs to the schools, and an incinerator bid that came in more than five times the expected cost. He wants the schools to do what they can, with busing and these items, then come in with their requirements in a deficit budget in October.

Fact Finder Appointed

A fact finder has been appointed by state authorities to examine the issues in the contract dispute between the town and the police department.

Town Manager J. Maynard Austin reported this week that Anna Weinstock of Westboro, has been named by the state Board Conciliation and Arbitration, as the fact finder in the negotiations.

The manager said he is awaiting word from the appointee as to when the initial meeting will be held.

Negotiations between the police and the town broke down several weeks ago. Sessions have been held for several months.

The town manager, after several sessions, suggested that the differences be subjected to fact finding, to which the police negotiators have agreed.

Under consideration are several fringe benefit clauses in the contract, regarding work week, vacations and sick leave, as well as other issues.

History Proves Times Haven't Changed Much

Andover's problems of yesterday, seem to be still with us, as a historical fact brought out in an address by Donald Cole, Andover native and history professor of Phillips Exeter Academy, who was the principal speaker at the 325th anniversary banquet Friday night at the Phillips Academy gymnasium.

Close to 600 people heard the historian tell of the drug problems of the 1850s, the seeking of a new town hall and new school facilities then, as seems to be the case still today.

In researching for his talk, Mr. Cole said that as we live in troubled times, we look to history to find guidance, comfort and perspective.

As he researched in the library of Congress, finding editions of the Andover Advertiser, a newspaper published in the 1850s, he found that the Andover was in as much trouble then as now.

In his address, he noted that in those days, as today, problems were prompted by growth of the community and the pressure of rapid change in the United States.

CO-OP

Hidden Weapon Unveiled!

When you start trying to explain about CO-OPs, it turns out to be fairly complicated. Everyone else is in business for themselves - and here is this crazy store that's in business for the consumer (ho, ho - that's us!) For $5 a share we can own it - and it turns back its profits to us! Pretty strange, but pretty great!

That's not the only odd wrinkle, though. CO-OPs carry this peculiar, not very exotic-sounding CO-OP label. What on earth is it? We all understand about fancy, prominent labels because their companies spend fortunes to brainwash us about their merits. But CO-OP? Who's ever heard of it?

Actually, it's our HIDDEN WEAPON, but being amateurs we've even kept it hidden from ourselves. We're a CONSUMER operation from start to finish, so we even have our OWN quality-control research lab. OUR LAB okays only the classiest products, and their sign of approval is, of course, that mysterious CO-OP LABEL!

Give our hidden weapons a whirl, won't you? Catsup to coffee, canned goods to kleenex - CO-OP means CLASS!

Dr. Alston H. Chase

Dr. Chase To Retire

Commencement at Phillips Academy this year will mark the close of 37 years of dedicated service to the school by Dr. Alston Hurd Chase, chairman of the Classics Department. One of his final official acts will be to take part in the induction of new members of the Cum Laude Society, made up of seniors graduating with honors.

Writing in the current issue of the Andover Bulletin, the alumni quarterly, James J. Grew, a faculty colleague, said of Dr. Chase, "No one who has had the opportunity of sitting in one of his classes has failed to come away without a new respect for learning and a deeper understanding of life's complexities. Many former residents of his dormitories will recall a helping hand in time of trouble, an understanding when understanding was desperately needed -- and some, an Olympian wrath because of evasion of responsibility or careless disregard for the feelings of others."

A native of Adams, and a graduate of Salem Classical and High School, Dr. Chase is described by contemporaries as a staunch defender of a very Yankee way of life, upholding traditions he feels that school masters are duty bound to serve.

Dr. Chase was a Summa Cum Laude graduate of Harvard University and a member of Phi Beta Kappa. He earned his doctorate at Harvard and later studied at Emmanuel College, Cambridge University, England. Before joining the Andover faculty, he was a tutor and instructor in the classics at Harvard, from 1928 to 1934.

Between 1942 and 1946, Dr. Chase served with the United States Air Force Intelligence, with the rank of captain. He is a member of many classical learned societies and the author of numerous books and articles in his field. Among his publications are "The Metrical Lives of St. Martin of Tours," and "Plato's Laws and Athenian Institutions."

An aunt, Miss Anna Chase, was a teacher in the Andover public schools for 40 years.

Book Bazaar On Weekend

Thousands of books will fill the tables at the Greater Lawrence YWCA book bazaar to be held at the YWCA June 3, 4 and 5.

Books embracing a wide range of subjects will be found - there will be desirable text books, good books on art and real estate also children's books, hobby and other magazines. These have all been donated by interested Greater Lawrence residents and are all bargain priced.

The bazaar hours are Thursday, June 3 and Friday, June 4 from 11 a.m. - 9 p.m. and Saturday 10 a.m. - 2 p.m.

A lunch bar will be open from 11 a.m. - 2 p.m. on Thursday and Friday. Beverages, home made sandwiches and desserts will be sold.

Mrs. Douglas R. Cooke is general chairman and Mrs. William Meseth is in charge of the lunch bar.

The public is invited to come in and browse.

Religious

An ecumenical religious service was held at Cochran Chapel with features of Andover observance of its anniversary.

Rev. A. Graham Bodge, minister of Phillips Academy, delivered the sermon, "The Metrical Lives of St. Martin of Tours," in which he stressed problems of the modern day world, in belief of God, and of comfort and relief difficulties.

Rev. Mr. Baldwin stressed the basic problem is to understand ourselves and our desire to bring about peace through religion. While there have been religions and religious over the years, religions on and it is by the things a man way he acts in relation time on earth, Rev. said.

He stressed his belief in the power of the human spirit, carpenter of Nazareth.

Religious Service Held

An ecumenical religious service at Cochran Chapel was among the features of Andover's four day observance of its 325th anniversary.

Rev. A. Graham Baldwin, minister emeritus of Phillips Academy, delivered the sermon, Faith of Our Times, in which he stressed that despite problems which beset the modern day world, "a strength in belief of God," is the source of comfort and relief from these difficulties.

Rev. Mr. Baldwin said that the basic problem is to know and understand ourselves and the desire to bring about harmony and peace through religion.

While there have been many religions and religious changes over the years, religion itself lives on and it is characterized by the things a man does and the way he acts in relationship to his time on earth, Rev. Mr. Baldwin said.

He stressed his belief in the power of the human soul, "in the carpenter of Nazareth."

"I do not believe God is dead but that he is the ground of all existence." Responsibility for the human soul is required to solve the problems of our times, he said.

"With the strength of these beliefs in the face of our problems, I say Bless us and His Holy Name," he concluded.

Hymns were sung by members of the Andover Choral Society under the direction of J. Everett Collins and accompanied by Dr. Lorene Banta, Cochran Chapel, Keith Gould and Maxine Calt.

The Call to Worship and benediction was by Rev. James Rae Whyte, school minister at Phillips Academy. Scripture lessons were given by Very Rev. Kenneth J. Kennedy, O.S.A., pastor of St. Augustine's parish and Rev. J. Edison Pike rector of Christ Episcopal church.

Rev. J. Everett Bodge, minister of South church gave the service of prayer.

The concluding hymn was the singing of "America", which Rev. Mr. Bodge said must be considered our National Hymn. Written by Samuel Smith, while a student at Andover Theological Center, the first verse was sung with the following stanzas written by Rev. Mr. Bodge in tribute to the marking of the anniversary.

Briggs Awarded Degree At Springfield

Paul Briggs, son of Mr. and Mrs. Winston C. Briggs, Andover, received a Bachelor of Science degree in History at the 85th annual Commencement Exercises at Springfield College, Monday, May 31.

Briggs, a 1967 graduate of Andover High School, has been a member of the Springfield College Gymnastic team for three years. He will attend graduate school at Boston State College next year.

Joseph Glasser, manager of Raytheon Company's manufacturing facilities at Andover, has been elected a vice president of the company by the board of directors.

With Raytheon since 1958, Glasser has served in a number of increasingly responsible positions. He was named manager of the facility of the company's Systems Division in 1967. Prior to that, he served for eight years as manager of the company's Equipment Manufacturing facility.

Under his direction, the 700,000-square-foot manufacturing facility was converted to replace the converted textile mill by the company since the new facility was completed last year.

Glasser received a B.S. in electrical engineering from Worcester Polytechnic Institute in 1935. He is a graduate of the Raytheon Advanced Management Program.

He is a director of the Lawrence Chamber of Commerce, the Greater Lawrence Union, the Merrimack Valley Union, and the Greater Lawrence of the American Red Cross. He is a trustee of Bon Secours Hospital, and a trustee of the Lawrence Bank.

Mr. Glasser and his wife, Mrs. Glasser, reside at 36 Sagamore Road.

Glasser is married to Deborah Cantor, daughter of Louis Cantor of New York, and a stepdaughter of Louis Cantor of Baltimore, Maryland.

The Glassers have three children: William S., 24; and John S., 22.

Joseph Glasser

Raytheon Promotes Glasser

Joseph Glasser, manager of Raytheon Company's manufacturing facilities at Andover, has been elected a vice president of the company by the board of directors.

With Raytheon since 1945, Glasser has served in a number of increasingly responsible manufacturing management positions. He was named manager of the Andover facility of the company's Missile Systems Division in November, 1967. Prior to that, he served for eight years as manager of the company's Equipment Division manufacturing facility in Waltham.

Under his direction, a new 700,000-square-foot manufacturing facility was constructed in Andover to replace the multi-story converted textile mill occupied by the company since 1956. The new facility was completed and occupied last year.

Glasser received a B.S. degree in electrical engineering from Worcester Polytechnic Institute in 1935. He is a graduate of the Raytheon Advanced Management Program.

He is a director of the Greater Lawrence Chamber of Commerce, the Greater Lawrence United Fund, the Merrimack Valley United Fund, and the Greater Lawrence Chapter of the American Red Cross; a trustee of Bon Secours Hospital; a corporator of Lawrence General Hospital; and a trustee and corporator of the Lawrence Savings Bank.

Mr. Glasser and his family reside at 36 Sagamore Drive.

Glasser is married to the former Deborah Cantor, daughter of the late Louis Cantor of Patchogue, N.Y., and a stepdaughter of Mrs. Louis Cantor of Bailey Avenue, Patchogue, N.Y.

The Glassers have two sons: William S., 24; and Jeffrey A., 22.

Year's Study In London

Thomas A. McClary, an honor graduate of Andover High school with the class of 1969, has been accepted at the University of London at Richmond, England for a year of study.

He has completed two years of undergraduate work at Clark University, Worcester.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lee R. McClary, 3 Surrey Lane.

Draperies Are Expensive

(Be careful who cleans them.)

There is a definite art to cleaning drapes. They should be measured before they're cleaned. The measurements should be the same AFTER they're cleaned. The hemline should be even. Uniform. Corners, square. The pleats should be absolutely vertical. Neat. Even. They should be returned to you packaged in such a way that they will not lose their shape before you have a chance to have them re-hung. Draperies are expensive. Protect your investment. HISTORICAL. Visitors to the Amos Blanchard House, home of the Andover Historical Society, viewed several items connected with old Andover. Here, a cannon is viewed by some of the visitors during open house which was observed Saturday and Sunday as part of the 325th anniversary observance.

The public itself was 225-250 strong, this week, was appealed to for expression of opinion, spoke, and exhibited splits in its most immediate concerns - some most concerned for busing, some for vitality of instructional programs and later on, some urgent for immediate release of all results of testing programs - but the audience seemed bound together this week by the cement of civility.

One onlooker said that on the bus-budget issue, "tonight both sides had justifiable points and presented them justifiably and both sides won."

Mrs. Margo Bixby presented a petition with 1,100 signatures which was not, she said, an anti-bus petition, but simply urged that the school committee cut the budget in a way that in no way interferes with the instructional program or the program's staff support.

Anthony Ruggiero, who said he was a student of group behavior, asked not for sympathy, but empathy, in group meetings, "putting ourselves in the other persons shoes, and listening to each other." He said that "no communication took place last week between people" and that continuation of this would be a cancerous situation. He stated his position on busing, that he would keep his child from school rather than agree to walking from Ballardvale to South School in winter, and asked for school committee commitment of the rumour that the school committee was "getting back at the town" by the busing cut.

Chairman William King said there was no way and no reason to do this, that the town perhaps didn't realize that the committee had been faced with a 10% cut in funds with the budget year a third gone. Since the original transportation cut was not inflated, he said, but asked for extra dollars needed to provide the customary service the next year, the transportation budget cut means a transportation service cut.

Committeeman Griggs talked about the "intent of the town meeting" and said the committee shouldn't have been hamstrung by the $43,000 transportation cut, but had liberty to move back and forth between items. He wants cuts in scheduling, computer services, water account savings and deletion of the central administrative offices' switchboard to restore the busing money.

The matter was settled with passage of the motion by Dr. Katz, who also addressed the audience on the thrust of the school budget this year. He pointed out that the budget emphasis in the two previous years had been on securing top notch personnel, with the hiring of a new superintendent and several new principals. This year, he said, personnel needs were cut back.

With Finance committee agreement and support, the school committee concentrated on program - the curriculum materials in the expense budget which these administrators needed for the schools' instructional program.

Katz said the committee could understand the school budget, as the largest town budget, being the largest target, but they were depressed after town meeting, not at the cut made, but the attitude and way it was done, without allowing the committee to explain the increases in the expense budget.

He referred again to the out-of-context reporting of the "zap" remark of Dr. Dan Frishman (out of the country on business Tuesday night) and said that by accepting the town's budget cut, the committee had the zap something. Zapping the busing was conspicuous, he said, and people were upset immediately. Zapping part of the instructional program, through cutting the closely intertwined staff and instructional materials budgets, he said, could hurt more, though less consciously.

The fourth grade testing program was the last item on the agenda, generated some urgency, and was not completely settled Tuesday night.

All committeemen are in agreement on publicizing the comparison between the Andover system and the state average, as well as the national average, on the standardized test and also the comparison between Andover and other systems within the Commonwealth. Where they part is on separately publicizing the results of each of the Andover schools. Dr. Griggs says "the people of Andover want to know", and some in the audience asked for these results so they could evaluate the open-concept schools as against the other schools.

The superintendent, the rest of the school committee and other members of the audience strongly object to "putting one school against the other," on the grounds that it wouldn't tell what was wanted to know, because of the size of the sampling, the present difference in programs, and the difference in school sizes, but would arouse unfounded hostilities and destructive sectionalism. Doherty Principal Ed Regan called it a "misuse of standardized tests," while Committeeman Griggs, allowing the disclaimers for the standardized test's validity, said people would take these into consideration. The superintendent said that he would not only get the state average, and the system to system comparisons as they became public, but that any parent could get a reading on where his own child stands in regard to his own pre-test potential and his actual standing with the larger date. However, strongly recommends against school versus school data, within the system.

Nowell Wins Bowdoin Cup

Theta Delta Chi Fraternity at Bowdoin College has chosen Frederick N. Nowell, III, of Andover, as the winner of the William Campbell Root Cup.

Nowell, a junior, was the recipient of the Freshman of the Year Award in 1969. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick N. Nowell, Jr., of 23 Cheever Circle. A dean's list student, he is a Classics major.

The Root Cup is named for the late Professor William C. Root, a member of Bowdoin's Chemistry Department from 1932 until his retirement in 1969, shortly before his death. He was a member of Theta Delta Chi. The award is presented annually to the Bowdoin undergraduate member "who best exemplifies the qualities of integrity and devotion to Bowdoin represented by William Campbell Root."

West Andover. A dutch treat social hour will be held from 6:30-7:30 p.m., dinner and a short business meeting will follow. The public is invited to attend and tickets may be obtained by calling the Andover Chamber of Commerce.

Class Day Off

The Senior Class Day for Andover High School originally scheduled for June 7, at Wentworth-Ry-The-Sea, has been cancelled due to lack of interest.

Andover High School will not have an official school sponsored Class Day for the Senior Class this year.

Andover Girls On Camp Staff

This summer several Andover women and girls will be working at Camp Y-Wood, which is the Greater Lawrence YWCA Day camp for girls. The program will be directed by Mrs. Evelyn Retelle, 64 Reservation Road, for the tenth year. The Retelle family pets including a pony, chicks, dog and rabbit add a great deal to the eight week camp program.

Arts and crafts counselor, Mrs. Wendy Moseley, 14 Standish Circle, is also camp committee chairman. She served on the staff in 1968. Basketry, copper enameling, weaving, felt craft and macrame are some of the crafts planned for this season.

Miss Susan Lynch, 99 Reservation Road, will assist as a junior counselor in crafts. She worked at Y-Wood last season and has had several years of overnight camping experience.

Miss Ellen Gravelle, 39 Sunset Rock Road, will assist with the campcraft and crafts program. She assisted with the Pike School Explorer's program and is a student at Concord Academy.

Miss Jennifer Zollner, 249 Highland Road, will be a waterfront instructor. She has her Red Cross Water Safety Instructors Rating and taught last season at Y-Wood.

Miss Carol Christopher, 16 Birch Road, will be on the waterfront staff for three weeks. She holds her senior lifesaving rating and has taught in the YW-YM swim programs.

Fourteen and fifteen year olds from Andover accepted in the counselor-in-training program are Ann Moseley and Carol Lee Whitney.

The camp opens on June 28. Registrations are being accepted at the Greater Lawrence YWCA desk for girls 8-13 years of age. There are several bus stops in Andover and surrounding communities on the way to Captain's Pond where the camp is situated on a 19 acre site.

Scouts On Camping Weekend

The following members of Eoy Scout Troop 75 enjoyed a Memorial Day weekend campout at Camp Onway: Charles Champagne, Gregory Champagne, Mark D'Annolfo, Roger Davis, Charles Galbiati, Jimmy Galbiati, Dennis Griffin, Douglas Griffin, Keith Kenney, Kevin Kenney, Billy Lewis, Jimmy Mower, Bobby Muldoon, Mark O'Brien, David Stein, Michael Witt.

The boys went on a hike to Lemon Squeeze on Saturday morning under the direction of Scout Committee Chairman William D'Annolfo. In the afternoon, the scouts had a choice of competitive sports, advancement or swimming. At 4 p.m. all the boys attended church services. After supper, all troops attended the Council Campfire where they sang and put on Indian skits. The camp broke up on Sunday morning after a breakfast over hot coals. The weekend campout was directed by Assistant Senior Patrol Leader Keith Kenney who was commended for his excellent Leadership.

At this Friday night's meeting, a representative of the Andover Police will demonstrate the techniques and principles of fingerprinting for Troop 75 scouts. Also, Health forms for Camp Onway will be distributed.

Concert To Benefit Peace Corps

Phillips Academy's Peace Corps Partnership Program will present a benefit concert this Friday, June 4, at 8 p.m. in George Washington Hall. Money raised by the concert will be used in the construction of a school in South America or Africa.

The concert features Hart Leavitt's Righteous Jazz Band which will play Dixieland jazz. The program also includes a small modern jazz group, a folksinger, and a woodwind quintet which will play classical selections.

Tickets can be obtained in advance at the desk of Phillips Academy, or at the door.

Memorial Hall Art Festival

The Art Festival has come and gone no means forgotten, shown by our friends during this month indicates clearly the great deal of enthusiasm and crafts. This is particularly apparent Monday evening music and on Thursday evening different crafts were strated. At Memorial we are already thinking of next year's May Art Festival.

At this time, however, like to thank the citizens of Andover and the area for their attendance at the festival. We especially wish to express appreciation to the craftsmen who took part in the musicals and art displays. They all volunteered their time and skill and their respective hobbies who took part in the festival. Everyone who came was struck by the number of people who engage in a hobby and in addition by the amount of skill and their respective hobbies. Weaving, ceramics, painting, water color sculpture, or making articles.

Mrs. McCormick, teacher at Emmanuel Church, held two classes in Art Appreciation. Both avid and energetic, Mrs. McCormick is a fine art instructor. Memorial Hall Library

Art Festival

The Art Festival at the library has come and gone, but it is by no means forgotten. The interest shown by our friends in the area during this month-long activity indicates clearly that there is a great deal of enthusiasm for arts and crafts. This enthusiasm was particularly apparent during the Monday evening musical programs and on Thursday evenings when different crafts were demonstrated. At Memorial Hall Library we are already thinking about next year's May Art Festival.

At this time, however, we would like to thank the citizens of Andover and the area for their support and attendance at the programs. We especially wish to express our appreciation to the artists and craftsmen who took part in the musicals and art demonstrations. They all volunteered readily and they all displayed an amazing amount of skill and expertise in their respective hobby. Everyone who took part in the programs and everyone who came to view them was struck by the number of people who engage in a hobby or craft and in addition by the skill which they have perfected, whether in weaving, ceramics, macrame, oil painting, water color, stitchery, sculpture, or making stained glass articles.

Mrs. Helen Collins Dooley and Mrs. Frances McCormick worked with staff member Gwen Smith to organize and plan the Festival. Without Mrs. Dooley's thorough knowledge of the Andover Artists Guild and its membership the programs could not have been presented.

Mrs. McCormick, a former art teacher at Emmanuel College, actually held two classes herself in Art Appreciation. They were both avid and energetic workers. Mrs. McCormick is going to continue art instruction at the Memorial Hall Library; her next project will be with the children for whom she will hold art classes during the summer months. Another tangible result of the Art Festival is the proposal of Mrs. Dooley to have original local art hanging in the library. A third visible result is the plan to loan original art done by our local artists on the same basis as the framed prints are now loaned. This plan is in the process of being worked out; Mrs. Dooley has agreed to loan one of her paintings. Ask about borrowing an original painting next time you come into the library. In addition to the above services to you as a result of the Art Festival, the newly formed Library Opera Club has been organized, meetings to begin in the fall with Mrs. Lotte Bertheim as leader. Mrs. Bertheim conducted a musical evening in May, based on Strauss' Der Rosenkavalier. Additional classes were asked for in instruction in the craft of stained glass and in ceramics. These will take place at the convenience of teacher and student outside the library. All these developments make it a pleasure to think about the month just passed. Art and music is alive and well in Andover, particularly at Memorial Hall Library in May.

HISTORY

He commented on the development of new schools as compared to when he went to school here in Andover.

He told of the development of the railroad here as part of the town's industrial development.

He also told of the death of President Pierce's son in a derailed train accident in Shawsheen, which had an adverse affect on the President's wife and thus his administration.

There was dissatisfaction with the school system in those times, thus the development of a Free school through the generosity of Benjamin Punchard.

While drug problems today concern themselves with LSD, heroin and the like, in the 1850s, there were problems with "adulterated food," Cole said.

Among these were diluted quinine, and chemical lemonade.

Commenting on women's rights, and today's fashions, the speaker told of the newspaper's outrage at the appearance of women in pantaloons at women's rights dance in Ballardvale.

Cole also discussed religious problems of a century ago.

Politically he spoke of the development of the "No Nothing Party," in Andover, which supported a Presidential candidate overwhelmingly in a national election. It would be comparable to supporting a third party candidate today, he said.

The arrival of Harriet Beecher Stowe had its effect locally on the anti-slavery question in those days.

Concluding his remarks and emphasizing that despite problems, Andover had always met them and met them well.

"We can understand our town better now and can understand the 325 years by looking carefully at two years before the civil war. Perhaps a student in 2046 (400 years), will look back on 1971 to help explain the greatness of the town," he concluded.

Dr. William V. Emmons was master of ceremonies for the occasion.

Selectman Sidney P. White, chairman of the anniversary committee expressed his appreciation to the committee members and to the townspeople for their assistance in preparing for the observance.

Chairman Robert A. Watters of the selectmen extended the greetings of the town.

Chairman Arthur P. Kirk of the North Andover board of selectmen brought the greetings of the neighboring community and Dr. John Mason Kemper, headmaster of Phillips Academy extended the greetings of the school.

George W. Glennie, president of the Andover Historical Society brought the greetings of his organization.

Town Manager J. Maynard Austin read best wishes from Sens. Edward W. Brooke and Edward M. Kennedy and Gov. Francis W. Sargent.

Austin also presented resolutions introduced in the state senate by Senator William X. Wall and in the General Court by Rep. James P. Hurrell, noting the town's historical milestone.

A letter was also received from President Richard M. Nixon, too late for reading at the banquet.

The Andover Male choir, under the direction of J. Everett Collins entertained with several numbers, concluding with the singing of the "Battle Hymn of the Republic."

Other weekend events included the presentation of "Generations," under the direction of Mrs. Marjorie Carson. It was presented at the East Junior High auditorium Saturday and Sunday nights and played before near capacity audiences.

The play depicted Andover's historical past, mixed with a little of the present and concluded with the Andover School Chorus under the direction of Miss Mildred Moore singing "America The Beautiful."

During the scene changes, the audience was entertained by the Phillips Academy orchestra, under the direction of DeWitt Thornton.

Saturday afternoon, several sporting events were conducted under the direction of the recreation department.

Open house was held Saturday and Sunday afternoons at the Amos Blanchard House, home of the Andover Historical Society.

Bunting decorated the downtown area as merchants participated in the observance and also contributed with window displays of historical matter.

Construction On Schedule

Progress on the construction of the water treatment plant at Haggetts pond is moving along on schedule, according to Town Manager J. Maynard Austin.

The contractors are presently clearing the area in preparation for actual construction of the physical plant.

Also being worked on at present is the construction of service roads into the site for the transportation of materials for the new building.

The $5,000,000 project is expected to be completed by early 1973 to meet the growing demand on the water supply. It will take water from the Merrimack River, treat it and place it in the Haggetts pond reservoir for storage.

Committeeman William A. Doherty, who served on the committee for over 35 years.

The Junior High school band was also a popular parade participant.

Among the traditionally popular musical units winning loud applause along the parade route was the "Kiltie" band of Clan McPherson.

The Phillips Academy band also proved to be a most popular musical unit as it passed in review.

Other musical units included the William B. Russell band of Lawrence, an Army unit from Fort Devens, a Navy unit from the first Naval District, and the Woburn Minutemen Fife and Drum corps.

Parade marshalls were Benjamin M. Brown, commander of American Legion Post 8, Capt. John C. Doherty, Jr., commander of Veterans of Foreign Wars, Post 2128, and Veterans Agent Ober. Members of Legion, V.F.W. and Disabled American Veterans posts and their Auxiliaries made up the first division of the parade, along with Gold Star Mothers.

There was a detail from the Andover fire department in the line of march.

Hundreds of Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, Camp Fire Girls, Cub Scouts, Brownies and Blue Birds, were among the marching units.

A United States Marine Corps platoon and a marching unit from Fort Devens also participated.

Members of St. Matthews Lodge, A.F. and A.M., paraded.

The Awana Youth group of the Andover Bible Chapel participated as did the Merrimack Valley Academy of Dance and the Pynchard-Andover Alumni Association.

Floats were entered by the Andover Lodge of Elks, which also had a marching unit, Western Electric Co., Merrimack Valley works, and the Andover Service club.

Floats were also entered from the Andover Recreation Bowling center, Pizza Villa, Greater Lawrence Regional Vocational Technical High school, Doherty Insurance Agency, ancient handtub fire apparatus from Phillips Academy and a handtub from Cambridge once used by the Bradley Mills.

Boy Scout Troop 72 also entered a float as did other Foy Scout and Cub Scout troops.

Antique cars interspersed along the parade route included those driven by Ted Leland, Joseph Antanovich, Herbert Peterson, Leonard Colpitts and Donald Hengst.

To the parade participants and the thousands who watched, it was a fitting conclusion to the four day observance.

The participants were served refreshments at the Andover Lodge of Elks Home on South Main street, following the parade.

It takes about 200 varieties of jobs to adequately staff a large hospital. Not just doctors and nurses. But professional therapists and technicians, dietitians, housekeepers, engineers, medical librarians, secretaries, purchasing agents, telephone operators.

Temple Emanuel Service

On Sunday, May 30, Temple Emanuel of Merrimack Valley, 101 West Forest St., Lowell, conducted Shavuot services for members of the Religious School. At this time Mr. Walter Beck, Principal of the Religious School awarded diplomas of promotion and certificates of merit. The children receiving honors were: Third grade award, Gary Flieder of Andover; Fourth grade, Michael Ratney of Bedford for Hebrew and Carolyn Katz of Andover for History; Fifth grade, Cathrine Ratney of Bedford for Hebrew and Lynn Miller of Lowell for History; Sixth grade, Sheryl Kates of Andover for Hebrew and Jonathan Steen of Andover for History; Seventh grade, Michael Botan of Lowell for Hebrew and Karen Rubinoff of Tewksbury for History; Eighth grade award, Alan Greenberg of Andover.

Rabbi S. Daniel Breslauer expressed gratitude to the fine teachers we have had during the past year and was pleased to note that many of them will be welcomed back next year. He also noted the fine co-operation given by parents of the Religious school.

Temple Emanuel offers a full religious training from Kindergarten through grade 10, meeting for two and one half hours each Sunday morning. The religious school transmits to the child an understanding of the history, language and customs of the Jewish people. Religious School commences a new term in the fall. This fine program of education is offered to all members of the congregation and welcomes families from the entire Merrimack Valley. Those interested in enrolling a child for the coming year may contact Walter Beck, 42 Wildwood Drive, Bedford or leave a message by calling Temple Emanuel.

Exemptions For Students

Students who work this summer may be entitled to exemption from income tax withholding. William E. Williams, IRS District Director for Massachusetts, said today.

Forms for claiming the exemption are available from Internal Revenue Service offices if employers do not have them, he said.

An employee who had no income tax liability last year and anticipates none for this year should use a Withholding Exemption Certificate, Form W-4E, to claim the exemption.

For 1971 a single person who makes less than $1,700 owes no tax. This is based on the $1,050 low income allowance and a personal exemption of $650. A single taxpayer over 65 can earn wages up to $2,350 without incurring a tax liability, Mr. Williams explained.

Anyone who qualifies can fill out the form and give it to his employer to claim exemption from income tax withholding on his wages.

Employers who need quantities of the new Form W-4E can obtain them from their IRS District Office.

Family Fun At Fair Day

Committees have been formed to organize the second annual "Fair Day" to be held on Sunday, June 20, from 1-6 p.m., rain or shine, at the Christian Formation Center. Chairman for the Greater Lawrence area is Ralph Parrotta, 158 Beacon St. The proceeds of this event will be used for the general support of the Center.

A ham and bean buffet will be served throughout the afternoon. Prizes for one and all, as well as various booths including arts and crafts, refreshments, white elephant, jewelry, candles, cakes and many others will be featured. Family fun and entertainment will be provided including a rock group for teens and the "young in heart", and pony rides for the youngsters.

Anyone willing to help may contact the chairman for information.

YOUNG MEMBERS of the Woburn Minutemen participated in the anniversary parade Monday. Here, the color bearers lead the fife and drum corps unit.

Summer Organ Concerts At Methuen Music Hall

Fifteen summer organ recitals are scheduled again at the Methuen Memorial Music Hall for the 1971 season starting June 9. Each Wednesday evening at 8:30 the Hall Trustees will sponsor some of the best church and concert organists from this area. They will play a variety of organ literature from all periods.

Each week will represent an opportunity to see the over 100-year-old Boston Music Hall Organ with its unique carved American walnut case and show pipes. Visitors will have ample opportunity to study the oak panelling, panels of tapestry-like fabric and ornate plaster walls and ceilings.

The full resources of the nearly 6,000 pipes will be explored each week, differently of course, by each organist.

Wednesday at 8:30 p.m. on June 9, internationally known Clarence Watters will play organ works of Marcel Dupre, honoring the 85th birthday of the composer who was born on May 3, 1886.

Clarence Watters, a pupil of Marcel Dupre in organ and improvisation is considered this country's leading authority on the music of the Paris Organ School. He is well known in the United States and Canada as a teacher, lecturer and recitalist. Beginning his organ study at 15, he was a seasoned virtuoso with a concert tour behind him at 19. From 1932 to 1968, he was Head of the Music Department at Trinity College in Hartford, and was Visiting Professor of Music at Yale University in 1968 to 1970. He is Director of Music at St. John's Church in Hartford. Included among his recordings are the entire works of Cesar Franck, the Widor "Symphonie Gothique", and Dupre's "Symphonie - Passion" and "Le Chemin de la Croix".

Other organists performing this summer are: Carolyn Day Skelton - June 16; Charles Krigbaum - June 23; Marian Ruhl - June 30; George E. Lamphere - July 7; Donald R. M. Paterson - July 14; Mary Crowley Vivian - July 21; John Kuzma - July 28; McNeil Robinson - August 4; John Russell - August 11; Karen Laycock Leonard - August 18; Donald H. Olson - August 25; Donald Dame - September 1; Carrol Hassman - September 8; Henry J. Lowe - September 15.

Carolyn Day Skelton is organist and choir director of West Parish Church in Andover.

Six specialists teach the 15-week course which meets daily for six hours. Basic theory including such topics as types of sewerage systems, state laws, and laboratory tests is taught by sanitation engineers.

Mass. Bar Meeting

The 60th Annual Meeting of the Massachusetts Bar Association, on June 4 and 5, at Harwichport, will provide a blend of programs for the 13,000 attorneys in the Commonwealth.

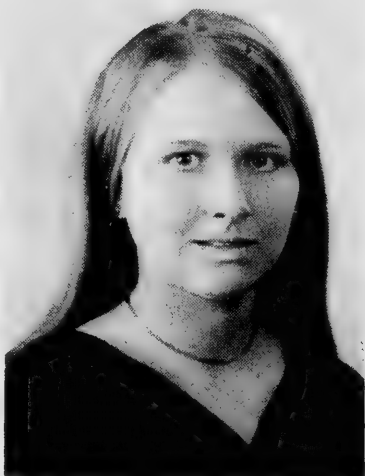

Panels on "How to Represent a Person Accused of a Drug Offense" and "You and Environmental Law" are two of the contemporary topics which will be covered. Of a more academic nature will be discussion on the proposed new rules of court procedure for Massachusetts.

Chief Justice G. Joseph Tauro of the Supreme Judicial Court will give his annual State of the Judiciary Address.

The highlight of the two-day convention will be the Saturday evening banquet at which former Associate Justice of the United States Supreme Court Tom C. Clark will speak. Gold Medal presentations will be made to two outstanding members of the legal profession in Massachusetts.

Dr. Sullivan To Retire

Dr. James B. Sullivan, executive vice president of Salem State College will retire June 30 after 31 years in public higher education.

Dr. Sullivan, 57, served at Salem State College since 1946 in a variety of capacities ranging from teacher of biology to dean of the college before being named executive vice president two years ago.

Dr. Frank L. Keegan, Salem State's new president, noted that "The important services rendered by Dr. Sullivan over the past 25 years are deeply appreciated. Jim Sullivan has served the college long and well as a professional educator and administrator."

During his years at Salem State, he also served as professor of education, biology chairman, science chairman, director of admissions, and as acting president for one semester.

He played a major role in development of the college from a teachers school of 500 students to its present status as a multi-purpose college of 4,400 students.

He began his career in public education as an organizing instructor for the Division of University Extension of the State Dept. of Education in 1937. The following year he joined the faculty of Framingham State Teachers College.

Four years later he entered the Navy, teaching navigation and ordnance at Columbia University Midshipmen's School and then serving as educational services officer at Pearl Harbor. He completed his military service with the rank of lieutenant.

A graduate of Boston College he also earned a master's degree in physics from B.C. and a doctor of philosophy degree in education from Boston University.

He also did advanced study at Harvard and Cornell and later attended workshops on administration of higher education at University of New Hampshire and University of Michigan.

His many professional activities include a term as president of the Massachusetts State College Association. An enthusiastic golfer, he coached the Salem State golf teams which won five conferences titles between 1957 and 1964.

Dr. Sullivan has been active in community affairs, serving as an elected member of the school committee in Lawrence in 1939 and 1940.

He also assisted the Andover school committee for three years as a member of its Educational Advisory Committee and he served one year as president of the Andover West Elementary PTA.

A native of Lawrence, he now lives at 82 North St., Andover.

Dr. Sullivan is married to the former Delphine M. Gemmell. They have three children, Mrs. Moira D. Reed of Salem, N.H., Navy Lt. James D. Sullivan, who will be stationed at Newport, R.I., starting May 21, and Miss Christine M. Sullivan, a senior at Nazareth Academy, Wakefield.

He is listed in Who's Who in American College and University Administration Leaders in Education, and The World of Learning.

Jobless aerospace and defense scientists, engineers and technicians will receive assistance in finding jobs through a $42 million Labor Department program. The money will be used to retrain about 10,000 persons, make relocation grants to persons who find jobs in areas beyond their commuting range, and provide job-search grants to enable about 20,000 applicants to explore specific job opportunities outside their home areas.

G. O. Farrar Retires

George O. Farrar of Andover, assistant vice-president and assistant secretary, retired from Arkwright-Boston Insurance the end of May. With the company since 1936, he has served most recently as boiler and machinery underwriting manager.

The company which has offices in major American and Canadian cities, insures large industrial properties. A member of the Factory Mutual System, it stresses loss prevention.

Farrar has been with the home office underwriting staff throughout his 35 year career. He served as assistant secretary, manager of the policywriting division and assistant to the underwriting manager prior to being appointed boiler and machinery underwriting manager in 1963. Farrar was named assistant vice-president in 1968.

His educational background includes two degrees in mechanical engineering: a BS degree from the University of Maine and an MS degree from Harvard University.

He is a member of the social fraternity Lambda Chi Alpha and the engineering fraternity Tau Beta Pi. His long-time interest in sports now focuses on golf and squash.

Farrar and his wife are now residents in Andover, having moved last year from Winchester where they had lived since 1939.

Fire Log

The Andover Fire Department responded to the following alarms between the period of May 18 to May 24.

May 19 - 261 North Main St., State of Massachusetts, grass fire.

Flowers . . .

. . . can make an important contribution to the traditional funeral service. Not only do they denote respect for the deceased, but flowers can be sort of a personal messenger of sympathy and understanding to survivors. Their presence tells the immediate family that their friends are thinking of them and sharing their sorrow during their bereavement.

While many customs and fashions have undergone changes over the years, the use of flowers at funerals has endured. Evidence of floral tributes have been found in excavated tombs dating as far back as ancient Egypt.

LEST WE FORGET. Members of Veterans organizations, municipal officials gathered Monday morning at Memorial Auditorium, East Junior High school for the traditional Memorial Day tribute. Lt. Col. Joseph J. Thompson, a career officer stationed at Hanscom Air Field, Bedford, delivered the principal address. Barbara Moody is shown reciting "Flanders Field."

TRIBUTE. Rev. J. Allyn Bradford, minister of Free Christian church, leads prayer at the American Legion Lot in Spring Grove cemetery during Memorial Day services Monday morning.

Tribute Paid To Veterans

Tribute to the veteran dead of all wars was paid Monday in the town's traditional Memorial Day services at all Andover cemeteries and a main service at Memorial Auditorium.

Lt. Col. Joseph J. Thompson, career officer in the United States Air Force, stationed at Hanscom Air Field, Bedford, was the principal speaker and traced the history of Memorial Day, incorporating the tribute paid initially following the Civil War, on up to today's memorial services for those who have sacrificed in all wars.

He commented on the role of the Air Force in the defense of liberty and freedom of the United States and concluded his talk by commenting on the demonstrators who would lead us to believe actions inappropriate in Vietnam.

The officer noted that the conditions of American involvement in the Southwest Asian country were never better and that support for our fighting men was necessary to continued freedom here at home.

He said that the protests on American streets leads easily to the defeat of American ideals.

Master of Ceremonies for the main service was Commander Benjamin Brown of American Legion Post 8.

Rev. Earl B. Robinson, pastor of Andover Baptist church delivered the opening prayer, followed by the recitation of the Gettysburg address by Eugene Harris of Boy Scout Troop 77.

Robert A. Watters, chairman of the Board of Selectmen introduced the main speaker.

Miss Barbara Moody gave the "Flanders Field" recitation.

A floral tribute was placed by Mrs. Catherine Quinn, senior vice president of the Ladies Auxiliary to the Veterans of Foreign Wars Post 2128 and Commander John C. Doherty of Post 2128.

The benediction was given by Rev. J. Everett Bodge, minister of South church.

A volley by the combined firing squads of V.F.W. Post 2128 and American Legion Post 8, was followed by the sounding of taps by Louis Galbiati and Kevin Retelle, members of the Phillips Academy band.

Appreciation Day Set For Miss Dobbie

Invitations were sent home this week to all West School parents and their children to attend an Open House and "Day of Appreciation" in honor of Principal Isabelle Dobbie who will leave West School at the end of the school year to assume her new duties as principal of Shawsheen School in Andover.

The "Day of Appreciation" will be held on Sunday, June 13 from 1 - 3 p.m. at the school and all friends and former pupils of West School and their parents are invited to attend.

Each family who attends will be asked to sign a "Memory Book" which will be presented to Miss Dobbie at the conclusion of the afternoon's program. A gift from the P.T.O. will also be presented by President Jerome P. Hochschwender at 2 p.m.

Serving on the committee for the open house are the other West P.T.O. officers: Mrs. Jerome Sohler, Mrs. Robert Pelliccione, Norman Fredette, Frank Orlando, Mrs. Harold O. Keegan and Mrs. Frank Stevenson and Mrs. Clayton Crotch.

To Show Slides Of Spain Trip

The public is invited to attend a slide and discussion presentation of the August and April High school trips to Spain.

There were 46 students, chaperoned by Mrs. Dorothy Goclowski and Miss Sarah O'Brien, who travelled extensively through Spain and Tangiers for several weeks.

Informal discussions will be held in the large group room at 7:30 p.m. and refreshments will follow.

Editorial Comment

Courtesy

Far be it for us to criticize the Democratic process.

Much more do we applaud the active participation of citizens in municipal affairs, such as has been exemplified at the recent town meeting and more recently at school committee meetings.

The one disturbing factor, however, and it refers to both the town meeting and school board sessions, is the lack of courtesy.

The matter was commented upon in these columns at the time of town meeting proceedings in March.

Once again, we feel compelled to comment on the behavior of some of our citizens at public meetings.

The matter of busing school pupils was under discussion when the apparent lack of understanding of various viewpoints became subjected to jeers and outrageous shouts and just plain downright discourtesy.

Town meeting in March issued a mandate that the school budget be cut. Knowingly, or unknowingly, contained in that mandate was the transportation budget.

School committee members wrestled with the problem and had come up with a possible solution.

Much to the dislike of many, following the mandate to the letter of the law meant many children now being bused, would have to walk.

Parents were naturally upset.

They showed up in great numbers at a school committee meeting to debate the merits of the decision.

Up to this point everything was moving along rather normally.

Then, an upset public, learning of the decision to cut back on the busing, appeared before the school committee.

Some were downright rude in their attitude, manner and approach to the problems.

This is intolerable.

We daily hear comments from adults, voicing derogatory opinions about the youthful demonstrators on our streets and campuses, yet at a public meeting, some adults bridge the generation gap, so-called, and follow the same deplorable actions.

We support the right to differ with our elected and appointed officials on issues, and further encourage participation in governmental proceedings.

But, we fail to see how any problems can be settled through rudeness and discourtesy.

A return to civility and sensible discussion of matters should be the rule henceforth at all meetings.

Homework

Out of the most recent controversy regarding the school busing problem, dictated by a cut in the school budget, comes a lesson for all.

It is the need to do a little more homework at times before coming up with solutions to problems.

The cutting of a municipal budget is probably commendable, if done with proper study beforehand.

In the case of the school budget, this appears to have presented problems.

The need for homework falls on both the municipal leaders, as well as those who are economy minded - a commendable mood in these particular times.

This is not meant to criticize those who asked the budget be cut.

But a little more study on the part of all, may have prevented the problem in the first place.

Like dominoes, the problem has been compounded, since possibly sidewalks will have to be built where not programmed this year.

There is a lesson in this for all.

Municipal officials should be prepared to answer all requests for financial demands. Townspeople should be more informed of the needs of departments.

Municipal officials are mindful now of the need for economy.

We feel they will listen and acquiesce where it can be pointed out that certain items can be dispensed with for the time being if necessary.

But homework is the key.

Preparedness can solve future problems.

Commendable

Andover's 325th anniversary observance is now history.

The four day observance went off smoothly and was well-received.

That such a municipal observance could be carried out without problems, is due in no small part to a hard-working committee which has been meeting for several months to plan for the event.

Beginning with the banquet on Friday night and continuing through the parade on Monday, there was a festive, dignified spirit marking another milestone in Andover's rich and historic heritage.

In addition to those appointed to serve on the committee, there were many volunteers who assisted in preparing for the occasion.

Businessmen in the downtown area, for instance, aided in the observance with the placing of the bunting on buildings and some putting in historic window displays.

In all, it was a commendable effort by the committee, the townspeople and the thousands of visitors who participated in the four-day observance.

It was a proud display of Andover's spirit and tradition.

Down The Years

75 Years Ago - June, 1896

The fine residence of James B. Smith on Main Street has been purchased by W. H. Gile, the well known Lawrence Clothing dealer who will occupy it. The sale was made by B. Rogers. State Inspector of Institutions Charles E. Woodbury made his annual visit to the Almshouse here and reported "the place is in its usual good condition; the housekeeping excellent. The inmates rooms are homelike. The farm is productive and profitably managed."

Members of the Andover fire department were pleasantly entertained by the Eben Sutton Company of North Andover last Saturday evening.

Hardy and Cole have a gang of men at work in Lawrence on the large storehouse which S. E. Locke is building.

The report of the retirement of E. R. Foster from his position at the Andover National Bank will be a surprise to many citizens in town.

The Snow Drift Rubber Shoe Company has leased the "Hat Shop" and will endeavor as soon as possible to thoroughly repair it. They also contemplate building a two-story addition about 150 feet long and purchasing a new engine and boiler. They expect to employ about 150 persons.

F. G. Haynes is improving his place by building on an addition and putting in a bath room.

James Gorrie, machinist at the Tyer Rubber Company, has gone to Superior, Wyoming, where he has accepted a similar position with William Matthews, formerly of this town, and a well-known soccer player.

Andover K. of C. nine loses to West Roxbury, 2-1. In Andover line-up were Lund, Horace Harrison, Billy Lynch and Viet of Lawrence, Bowman, Sol Walker and Murphy.

During the month of May, the Memorial Hall library issued for home use 3,219 volumes. At Ballardvale, 628 were borrowed. This makes the library circulation for a period of five months, a total of 24,242 books.

Theodore F. Plimpton of Tilton, N.H., has been appointed assistant instructor of physics at Phillips Academy. He graduated from Tilton Seminary and is a senior at Wesleyan University this year.

Mr. Littlefield of Northampton has accepted the position of superintendent of the New England Plywood Company at Lowell Junction.

Viola Dana in "The Offshore Pirate," is film feature at Colonial theatre.

25 Years Ago - June, 1946

Mayor George D. Young and Mayoress Maude Sainsbury of Andover, England, reviewed great 300th anniversary parade. Says Mayoress: "I learned more about your country's history in one afternoon than I have learned all my life -- and your delightful children."

Anniversary parade was longest and most colorful in the town's history.

The first Memorial Day service since the conclusion of the war was attended by a pitifully small group of veterans and townspeople in Memorial auditorium. Lt. Col. Philip K. Allen delivered address in absence of Dr. Alfred E. Stearns who was confined to hospital.

Mrs. Herbert Folley was elected junior vice president of the Essex County Council of the Veterans of Foreign Wars Auxiliary at the annual meeting held in Lawrence.

Roy E. Hardy, chairman of the local committee sponsoring the Andover Youth Hostel, 10 Brook St., has received the official AYH charter for the current year from the National Headquarters of the American Youth Hostels at Northfield.

Display at Memorial Hall library includes copy of the announcement of the dedication exercises held on May 30, 1873.

10 Years Ago - June, 1961

Peter Beaven and Robert E. Westcott have been selected to attend the annual Boys State, held this year June 23 to July 1 at the University of Massachusetts.

A Mack 750-gallon pumper has been purchased by the town at a cost of $23,965, delivery of which has been promised in 150 working days.

Rev. Howard Andrews, pastor of West Parish church, was in charge of the religious services held last Sunday at the Harold Parker Reservation.

Walter C. Wilson, Jr., elected chairman of the finance committee, with Phillips P. Marsden, Jr., named as secretary.

Gilbert Barrett will head the Junior Football League which provides football for boys in the Little League and Junior League age groups.

Susan Kenney, daughter of Mrs. John W. Kenney and the late Mr. Kenney, 16 Johnson Road, president of the National Honor Society at Andover High School, has received a full scholarship, valued at $2,500, to Wellesley College.

Birds give their young constant care during the nesting period. A house wren has been recorded feeding its young 1,217 times during daylight of one day, according to the Massachusetts Audubon Society.

Off The Top
Of The Desk

The Aleppo Temple Mounted patrol consisting of a group of Palomino horses made an impressive start of the town's 325th anniversary parade Monday.

The stately steeds marched majestically along the parade route and both horses and riders were given loud applause by the thousands who lined the parade route.

The horses participate in many festivities and parades throughout the state and New England during the course of the year.

Following the mounted patrol was the Shriner's band, always popular.

Further exemplifying the greed being shown lately by some professional athletes, was the abortive attempt at an all-star basketball game between the National and American Basketball leagues.

Billed as a charity affair and played in the spacious Houston Astrodome, the charitable organization gained only one-seventh of the total gate.

The remainder of the gate went to the players, who received $2,000 each as winners and $1,000 each for the losers, plus a sizeable chunk for the players' pension fund, in addition to travel and expense allowances for the competitors and, in some cases their families.

The Andover Lodge of Elks made a good presentation in the anniversary parade Monday.

A beautifully decorated float was among the features presented by the lodge.

So proud were the designers and builders of the float that even the members were unable to see the entry until it was moved into the line of march.

Refreshments for the parade participants were served at the lodge home following the festivities, offering many Andoverites a first glance at the new quarters.

Those barrels located at various points throughout the town displaying the symbol KAN, are designed to keep Andover a clean community.

Distributed during earth week several weeks ago, the barrels are to be used for the deposit of litter.

Yet, there still seems to be a few people who fail to make use of the facilities.

Litter bags, bearing the same symbol are still available in some Andover stores.

KAN stands for Keep Andover Neat. Hopefully use of the barrels will do just that.

The Red Sox seem to have fallen into their old ways.

After a good start, the club has certainly taken a nosedive this past week.

schools in the state is coming in from newspaper reports, and that Dr. Seifert already knows that Andover has scored above one or two of the best known suburban systems in the state. He promised that the school committee would have this material and the names of the systems, to make public at the next meeting.

The school committee also passed unanimously the comprehensive drug policy for the schools, and heard reports under new reading programs from Mrs. Theresa Murphy and on the pre-kindergarten program from Mrs. Grace Jamison.

A last note on the school committee meeting and the busing issue. Restoration of the customary busing radius does not restore late busses, for the remainder of this year, and for next year.

East Junior High student Bud Edelstein brought a petition signed by more than 300 EJHS students and teachers asking for restoration of late busses, for extra-curricular and study help, but this was not covered by Tuesday evening's motion.

Little League Upset

By Rick Harrison

It was a week of upsets in the American League, while in the National League the three-time defending champion Cardinals and Giants continued their two-way battle for first place - as the Andover Little League marches on!

Good pitching performances were at a minimum this week, as the hitters found the range quite often.

Earlier in the year the Twins' Jerry Stabile lost a no-hitter, 6-0. Well, the Pirates' Bob Muldoon and Steve Serley didn't have that problem, but theirs was still rather unique. They held the Braves hitless for 5 and 2/3 innings, coming within one out of a no-hitter, and finally settling for a one-hitter.

The Braves failed to knock the ball out of the infield, but still scored five runs. Fortunately, the Pirates had their hitting shoes on and won 15-5.

Other decent mound efforts were four-hitters by Brian Twomey of the Cards, Gerry Cox of the Indians, and a combined job by Jim Lee and Russ Serbagi of the Giants. The latter performance was also a shutout.

Thom Lawler and Tom Black tossed successive five-hitters to spark the AL Yankees to their first two victories, and the NL Mets also broke into the win column for the first time this season.

The Giants' Joe Pasquale was a big slugging star, belting four hits in one game and a long homerun in another. John Fahey of the Cards cracked a three-run homer and two singles in one contest, while the Red Sox' Labeeb Abboud smashed a three-run homer and two-run single in a losing effort. American League upsets included the Yanks over the White Sox (5-3) and Twins (14-4), the White Sox over the Red Sox (19-7) and the Tigers over the league-leading Indians (10-3).

Yankees 5, White Sox 3 -- Manager Ed LaFleur's Yanks, victimized by some tough luck earlier in the season, finally came through behind Thom Lawler's excellent hurling. Young Thom twirled a five-hitter, fanning six and walking only one batter.

Jay Martha ignited the victors' batting charge with 2-for-2, including a solid double. Dave Yagmoorian slammed an RBI double, and Dave LaFleur lashed a run-scoring single. Dale Petty lined a pair of safeties, Wayne Belloir contributed an RBI single, and Tommy Black had a key bingle.

On the defensive side of the ledger, Yankee first baseman Jimmy Gillen did it all. He performed like a miniature George Scott vacuum cleaner around the bag, making several lo-o-ng stretches for big putouts.

Manager Lou Mirisola's White Sox received a timely single from Mark Hynes.

Indians 6, Red Sox 5 -- Manager Larry LaFleur's Indians rode the left-handed serves of Gerry Cox to their second straight one-run victory over the defending champion Red Sox.

Cox fired a four-hitter, striking out 11 and walking seven. Several "mental errors" by Sox baserunners also helped the Indians in this one.

Mark LaLonde continued to be one of the top batters in the league, lashing two hits for a pair of RBIs. Dave Dauber hammered a ringing two-run double, and Joe Cox laced a two-bagger.

First-baseman Dauber was a defensive standout, completing a key unassisted doubleplay to end the game on a bizarre note. The Sox trailed 6-5 in the sixth. They had a man on third base with one out. The batter fouled out to Dauber, who made a fine catch, and the Sox runner unfortunately trotted across the plate thinking the game was over.

Dauber alertly raced across the diamond and tagged third himself, doubling up the Red Sox runner and "officially" ending the contest. Labeeb Abboud was practically the entire show for the losers. He unloaded a tremendous three-run homer in the first inning, his third circuit clout of the season. Labeeb later drilled a two-run single, thus accounting for all five Sox tallies.

Omar Abboud and John O'Brien had singles to round out the Red Sox hitting attack. Altogether the Indians had seven hits off tough-luck loser Bill Emmert.

Yankees 14, Twins 4 -- Proving that victory No. 1 was no fluke, the Yanks paraded nine runs across the plate in the first two innings en route to this triumph over Manager Charlie Conlon's Twins. Winning chucker Tom Black whiffed three to go along with his five-hitter. Brian Feeney banged out three hits for the victors, while Jim Gillen ripped two safeties, Dale Petty tripled and Thom Lawler had a single. Dave LaFleur added a two-run single.

The Yanks also reeled off a crisp "around-the-horn" double-play, going from Lawler to Feeney to Gillen.

Keith Eosefow continued his consistent slugging for the Twins with a double and two singles, while Bob Reddish spanked a solid two-bagger.

White Sox 19, Red Sox 7 -- The White Sox apparently have the Red Sox number, as this was the second WS victory in two tries against Manager Frank Monette's club.

A host of White Sox hitting stars pummeled Red Sox pitching. Ray Lynch was a perfect 3-for-3 including a double. Winning pitcher Scott Collins, who fanned eight, had a 3-for-5 afternoon.

Tim Brownlie lashed a double and single, while Billy McGuire and Brian Bresnahan clobbered two-baggers.

The Red Sox, plagued in this game by fielding problems, did some heavy hitting of their own. Bill Emmert was 3-for-4 at the plate, while Dana Cohen went 3-for-3 and Omar Abboud connected twice in four trips.

Mets 12, Cubs 4 -- The Mets finally found the winning way with a decisive 12-4 win over the Cubs. It was the Mets all the way, scoring six runs in the first and three in the second inning.

Winning pitcher Tom Coffey scattered three hits over four innings, helping his own cause with a pair of hits. Bill Schlott also contributed a pair, while brothers Paul and Mike Derby collected a double and triple respectively.

To no avail, Jon Steen of the Cubs led off the game with a double, while singles were delivered by Mike Cullinan and Tommy Gender. In a pinch-hitting role, Mike McLaughlin produced a triple in the final inning for the losers.

Perhaps the key safety of the game for Manager Dave Mosher's Mets was a solid single by 9-year-old Dave Milne. Nice going, Dave! Cards 13, Mets 3 -- Manager Dick Neal's leaders captured their ninth win in 10 starts, paced by the four-hit, 11-strikeout pitching of lefty Brian "perfect-game" Twomey.

John Fahey clubbed a three-run homer (his second) and two singles for five RBIs. Catcher Mike McCormick added two doubles and two singles for the winners, while Joltin' Jeff Hubbell lashed a double and two singles for three "ribbies."

Twomey aided himself with two doubles and a single, and Gary Needham slammed a pair of singles.

For the Mets, Paul Derby doubled and singles were contributed by Alex Milne, Bob Anderson and Billy Schlott.

Cubs 15, Giants 7 -- A big upset for Manager Tom Gender's Cubs (although they view it as a typical victory), and a key loss for Manager Ross Tortora's second-place Giants.

Joey Develis, Mark Fichera and Jon Steen stroked two hits apiece to ignite the Cubs' surge. The key blow was struck by Billy Walsh, who came to bat with the bases loaded in the fourth. Billy pawed the dirt, swished the bat and belted a long three-run triple to clear the sacks.

Steen was the winning pitcher, whiffing five and issuing only two free passes. The victors scored five runs in the second stanza, and four in the fifth.

Joe Pasquale unloaded a homer and single for the losers, while Billy Best laced three hits and Jimmy Lee had a pair of bingles.

Giants 11, Pirates 0 -- In a rare LL shutout, Jimmy Lee and Russ Serbagi pooled talents to blank the Pirates on four hits.

The Giants' batting order showed Joe Pasquale with four hits, Al Kurth and Billy Best with three each, and Jim Lee and Lee Apgar with two safeties. Both Kurth and Glen Lefebvre clouted fence-busting triples.

Mike Silverman preserved the shutout for the Giants with some acrobatic defensive work in the outfield.

Bob Muldoon lashed two of the Pirates' hits, while Kevin Moore and Steve Serley had one safety apiece.

Pirates 15, Braves 5 -- Winning pitcher Bob Muldoon and reliever Steve Serley chucked three innings each, and came within a whisker of a no-hitter. They combined for eight Ks, allowing just one infield hit.

Muldoon also hammered three hits, while Billy VanSchalkwyk was 2-for-4. John Lyons, Kevin Muldoon and Mark Tassinari all slugged doubles.

The Braves' Steve Savrann spoiled the no-hit bid, beating out an infield single to shortstop by one step.

The Red Sox and Indians were slated to meet in a key game for both clubs last Tuesday, after TOWNSMAN presstime. The Red Sox and Tigers have a big contest tomorrow night. The June 15 showdown between the Cards and Giants could decide the NL title, but things could change drastically between now and then.

In the only scheduled games last week the winners won with big batting attacks. Two pennant contenders won and two lost. The leading Patriots recovered from their previous loss to the Senators by beating them behind Reed Thompson's pitching, with help from Randy Goldman. Chuck Watson produced 5 RBIs, including a grand slam, and Heydon Traub got two timely hits for the Pats.

The Orioles stayed within one game of the top with big Russ St. Armand smashing two triples and a grand slam home run. The Angels turned around and whopped the Yankees as the Angel offense, defense, base running and pitching kept the pressure on for six innings.

The pesky Red Sox proved again they are giant killers when Doug Nicol is pitching, and pushed the Tigers another game behind the Patriots.

In the final stretch, the Patriots will play the White Sox, Tigers, Red Sox and Orioles, teams which they outscored 52-17 during their first meetings; while the Orioles meet the Senators, Yankees, Angels and Patriots, teams which outscored them 40-36. The Orioles have their work cut out for them in the stretch drive as do the top six teams which are mathematically in contention.

RESTRICTIVE COVENANTS

"The ownership of a home, the feeling of independence which comes with the possession of a bit of the earth are among the most powerful incentives to high civic interest and usefulness." -- Calvin Coolidge.

Undoubtedly, your property is subject to various local zoning laws. In addition, there are probably clauses, called covenants, in your deed. These are agreements placed there by the original sub-divider. They may prohibit any number of things.

For instance: Do you own a one-story house? It may not be possible to add a second floor. Probably, you cannot build within a certain distance of the property line. You may not be able to rent part of your home.

The law enforces restrictions which are in the public good.

Be sure you know what restrictions have been placed on your perspective home.

Your Real Estate Agent can tell you about these zoning laws. Just ask him.

Do you have special real estate problems? Why not let us solve them! JAMES T. TREFREY, REALTOR is proud to offer you a complete real estate service. Braves 15, Phillies 10 -- Scott Anderson belted two homeruns and a single driving in seven runs to provide the margin of victory in this slugfest. Andy Powell and Ken Seifert supported the offensive attack with three solid hits apiece.

John Cunliffe wielded a big bat in leading the Phillies offensive attack.

Cardinals 9, Giants 7 -- Dave Bono led the hitting attack while Dave Seeley starred on defense as the Cardinals toppled the league leading Giants.

Gary Wagman starred for the losers by delivering a three run homerun.

Redlegs 15, Dodgers 5 -- Dick Daigle hit a homerun and a triple, Mike Cavallaro tripled with the bases loaded and Jonathan Staid doubled in two runs as the Redlegs defeated the Dodgers. Bob Conroy struck out six and walked only two in a fine pitching performance for the winners.

Ken Lally and Steve Sciuto were the heavy hitters for the losers while John Howell was outstanding on defense.

Astros 9, Cardinals 6 -- Jeff Paparella, Ed Darby and John Williams belted out two hits apiece while Steve Hanlon paced the defensive effort as the Astros defeated the Cardinals behind the excellent pitching of John Sagaser.

Bob Arrigo homered and Dave Bono and Bill Anderson made absolutely spectacular catches as the well-balanced Cardinal team went down to defeat.

Braves 7, Redlegs 2 -- Timely hitting by David Stein, Kevin Kenney, Mike Witt and Andy Weil and superb defensive play by Jim Galbiati and Paul Keefe in cutting down base runners, all behind a three hit pitching performance by Mark Grigoli, were the chief ingredients in the victory stew concocted by the Braves.

The losers were cheered by a fine relief performance from Roy Umanzio and a hard hit three bagger from the bat of Bob Conroy. Dodgers 21, Phillies 11 -- Hooray! Hooray! The Dodgers did it. The Dodgers did it. At last the hard luck Dodgers made it to the victory circle. Plagued with bad luck for most of the season, the scrappy Dodgers finally captured their first win. Dave Wilson homered for the winners while Steve Vayanos delivered two solid hits. Steve Morin pitched effectively when the chips were down and was a stand out on defense.

Gary Morrisette starred for the losers by smashing out two singles and a double as well as playing excellent defensive ball. Giants 5, Pirates 1 -- In one of the great games of the little league the Giants defeated the Pirates to capture first place in the National Minor League. Dennis Monroe, one of the outstanding pitchers in Andover Little League, with his pin point control and fiery fast ball, tossed his third no-hitter of the season while striking out eleven to gain this important victory for his mates. Gary Wagman delivered the big hit for the winners -- a three run homer.

Richard O'Hara pitched a superb game for the losers and Ed King sparkled on defense.

Giants 30, Dodgers 11 -- John Franz, Matt Billings, Glenn Ippolito and Thomas Fogarty all got three hits apiece as the Giants outslugged the Dodgers. Both Ippolito and Fogarty hit tape measure home runs worthy of Mickey Mantle -- long, high drives completely out of the ball park. Teddy Bartholdi came in in relief and pitched a fine game for the winners.

Dave Parker and Dave Wilson collected three hits apiece including a home run by Wilson while John Howell played fine defensive ball at third base to star for the losers.

Junior Olympics Results

Andover's elementary school children celebrated the town's 325th with a Junior Olympics, just as some of their parents had celebrated the 300th anniversary with a sports field day 25 years ago.

The events included a new event, the immensely popular gym hockey, as well as the perennial favorites, gymnastics, and track and field events of shuttle relay, standing broadjump and 50 yard dash.

Athletic and Physical Education Director Donald Dunn and his staff organized the Junior Olympics for maximum participation, with a girls' and boys' team from the 4th, 5th and 6th grades of each school in each event, and contestants limited to one event apiece. Over 500 children took part in last week's quarter and semi-finals and the Friday finals of the 325th Anniversary Junior Olympics.

The physical education department has released the following Junior Olympics results:

In gym hockey, 4th grade boys: Doherty School won 8-3 over runner up Bancroft; 4th grade girls: Doherty School over runner up Bancroft, 2-1.

5th grade boys: Sanborn over runner up South, 2-0; 5th grade girls: Doherty over runner up South, 6-3.

6th grade boys: West over runner up Sanborn, 3-0; 6th grade girls over runner up West, 4-2.

In gymnastics, individual champions were named at each grade level, on point count. The winners, and their schools are:

4th grade boys: Paul Fitzpatrick, Sanborn; girls: K. Butcher, West.

5th grade boys: J. Harlin, Bancroft; girls: N. Tropiano, Bancroft.

6th grade boys: Matthew Mirasola, West; girls: A. Calder, West.

Three Track and Field events were run, with the following results:

Shuttle Relay: 4th grade boys: West; Huggins, Bernhard, Innes, Lynch. 4th grade girls: Sanborn; Hayman, Muller, Hollis, Ziegenbein.

5th grade boys: West; Plumberg, Bragdon, Cole, Skinner. 5th grade girls: Doherty; Galvin, Burt, Sirois, Saab.

6th grade boys: West; Milne, Stabile, Petty Lefebvre. 6th grade girls: West; Earler, McEwen, Doyle, McConnell.

Standing Broadjump: 4th grade boys: West; P. Bryant. 4th grade girls: Shawsheen, S. Cox. 5th grade boys: West; R. Zwicker. 5th grade girls: Doherty; L. Campbell.

6th grade boys: West; Sirois. 6th grade girls: West; C. Webb.

50 Yard Dash: 4th grade boys: Shawsheen, G. Cohen; girls, Sanborn, L. Sapuppol.

5th grade boys: West, M. Duckwilder; girls: West, S. Bradner. 6th grade boys: Sanborn, R. Daly; girls, West, E. Evans.

HAPPINESS IS . . .

Enjoying Our Flair for Design

Maybe yours is the kind of elegance you find at the Museum of Modern Art or the Whitney where the absence of line in mass is an important part of the artist's statement. That's how it is with Studio Shoppe's Grand Prix tables, where space itself is framed in see-through panels of glowing walnut veneer and topped with subtly smoked glass. Then again, if your design ideas lean more to eclectic expression, you'll find us unbeatable in all aspects of decor for your home. Besides, we can't be beat for price . . . anywhere!

Instructors Certified

The Red Cross Water Safety Instructors' course recently conducted at the Phillips Academy pool enrolled a total of 83 candidates for certification. Sponsored by the Lawrence Chapter, American Red Cross, with the Andover chapter playing host, the course attracted enrollees from Greater Lawrence and a dozen other communities in this general area. Instructor-trainer Robert Punting of Lawrence and Dick Cate, executive director of the Andover YMCA served as instructors for the course.

Of the 69 individuals receiving certification, 28 were from Andover. First certifications were presented to Andy Caverly, Richard Pauk, Kevin Threadgold, Richard McHarg, Tim Neville, Cameron Nims, all of Phillips Academy, to Megan Treener of Abbot Academy and to Marilyn Fitzgerald, Chris Champagne, Claudia Cronin, Judy Fletcher, and Gary Gettel.

Andover residents receiving renewal certifications included: Jane Edwards, Janice Forte, Cathy Mattsson, Cathy Maxwell, Marilyn Cronin, Sally Reynolds, Shirley Ritchie, E. Joan Wilde, Dorothy Christopher, Susan Fisk, Stephanie Pardee, Marion Schofield, Mary Dow, Milian Salyers, Patricia Polgreen, John Chapman and Edward Ratyna.

BANCROFT PLAYGROUND OPEN HOUSE SUNDAY will introduce Andover's children, and their parents, to this cable spool tower, crawl-through tunnel and shoe-shaped slide, and other playground equipment which PA students designed and built for the town.

Playground Open House Set

A Playground Open House from 1-5 p.m. Sunday at Bancroft School invites all of Andover's children, with their parents, to see and play on its innovative new playground equipment, designed and built for the Andover school system by neighboring Phillips Academy architecture students with their teachers.

Like flying caterpillars, two 70-foot long green and yellow helium filled balloons, creation of Boston sculptor Otto Peine, from his Rainbow over the Charles Show, will be flying high over the Bancroft playground to celebrate its "opening for business" - children's play.

Helium filled balloons for children will be available, as well as a soft-drink stand, and families from all over town are invited to make a Sunday afternoon picnic while their children begin their summer's acquaintance with the muscle-stretching, imagination stretching playground pieces - these are the 30-foot high three-level fort, reminiscent of Lincoln Logs, but equipped with fireman's pole, watchtower, ramps and slide; a large tugboat with a cabin and great captain's wheel for younger children; the igloo-shaped foam huts, where Wendy and Peter Pan might keep house for the Lost Boys; and The Spools, the cable-spool climbing structure connected by a crawl-through tunnel to a slide shaped like a large shoe.

The PA teachers, Bancroft parent John McMurray and teaching fellow Fernando Gonzalez, also view the opening in another light - as an art opening for the students whose playground architecture will be on display and in use.

The PA architecture teachers invite townspeople to come meet the young designers, who worked through the late snows, the daily rains and the occasional sunshine of the past two months to complete the construction of the design - their year-long project: Trip Anderson, Anthony Carroll, Harry Chandler, Drew Cheney, Jeff Foise, John Grant, Richard Griffin, Phillip Kahn, Jane Harlen, Robert McLachlan, Peter Sachs, and a student who joined the work crew, Chaiya Wong-krajong.

Says McMurray: "Welcome to all who can act as young as they think they are."

M/Sgt. Tyrrell Wins Award

M/Sgt. Dennis A. Tyrrell, III, is among communications personnel who share honors with the 35th Tactical Fighter Wing at Phan Rang AB, Vietnam, in earning the Vietnamese Cross of Gallantry with Palm.

Sgt. Tyrrell, whose wife, Diane, is the daughter of Robert Mitchell of 12 Tewksbury St., Ballardvale, is first sergeant of his squadron and provides essential support for wing F-100 Super Sabre fighter-bomber operations at the coastal installation.

The 35th was cited by the Republic of Vietnam for flying more than 53,000 missions during a two-year period in support of U.S. and Vietnamese ground operations. The wing was also recognized for its community service programs which included a medical dispensary for treatment of villagers and orphans in the area.

Sgt. Tyrrell, assigned at Phan Rang as a member of the global Air Force Communications Service, will wear a distinctive service ribbon to mark his affiliation with the 35th.

Congress granted citizenship to American Indians, June 2, 1924.

Music To Our Ears

By Edward P. Grigoli

The "Romantic" period in music (also in literature and painting) began in the early part of the 19th century. It started shortly before the time of Beethoven's death. At this time composers expressed human emotions, rather than merely fitting their ideas to set forms.

It was Schumann who began the Romantic period, he painted little scenes, expressed the mood of poem, and told little stories in Music. However, the "Framework" on which he built his compositions was the same as that used by earlier composers.

Beethoven was the link between the Classical and Romantic periods. Although he built his musical works on standard patterns, he went further along the road of progress than composers before him and introduced a new human quality into his music.

"Chopin and Liszt" were among those composers who joined Schumann in this new idea of musical expression.

Therefore we find that "Romantic Music," is music which expresses emotion with ideas, which became as important as form and models.

OFF THE TOP

Losing two to lowly Washington, then dropping a three-game set to Kansas City, an improved expansion club, certainly dampened pennant fever quickly.

The pitching has almost completely fallen apart in the recent home series. Fenway park is supposed to be murder on visiting clubs, but not so recently.

Unless a quick turnaround is accomplished, it looks like another dismal season. Hopefully things will change for the better quickly.

Among national observances, at least one of which is scheduled for every week of the year, is National Root Beer week, coming up June 13 - 19.

How many can remember the good old days when the making of root beer was popular among families at home?

Roots, bark, berries and herbs were made, and allowed to stand for periods of time until the beverage, delightfully chilled was just right.

If you've ever wondered how to make a window box in which plants will flourish, ask the Mass. Dept. of Agriculture for a fascinating new bulletin entitled, "Gardening in a Limited Area."

Prepared by experts from UMass and the Waltham Field Station, it promises to be a best-seller. In addition to detailed instructions for making window boxes, it tells how to prepare the required soil; good plants for window boxes, listed according to exposure; how to make special plant containers from buckets, pots, baskets and plastic jugs; and a section on plant pests and how to control them.

Pamphlets are available upon request, by sending a self-addressed, stamped envelope to Mass. Dept. of Agriculture, 100 Cambridge St., Boston 02202.

Since the inception of the Interior Department's Land and Water Conservation Fund program in 1965, the Northeast Regional Office of the Bureau of Outdoor Recreation has allocated to States and local communities more than $94 million for the acquisition and development of outdoor recreation areas and facilities. Details about the Land and Water Conservation Fund program are available from the Bureau of Outdoor Recreation, 1421 Cherry Street, Philadelphia, Pa. 19102.

Island School of Design. The other award was from the British Academy to a R.I.S.D. student spending the past year studying architecture in Europe.

Last year Mr. Tinker was graduated from R.I.S.D. with a Bachelor of Fine Arts degree, and this year received a Bachelor of Architecture degree.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Wellington H. Tinker, Jr., of Andover, and is married to the former Wendy Prellwitz of Pittsburg, who is a student in Interior Architecture at the Rhode Island School of Design.

is a necessity at this time.

To be studied is how the town program can relate to the development of the YMCA program locally, as well as use of the school and other municipal buildings.

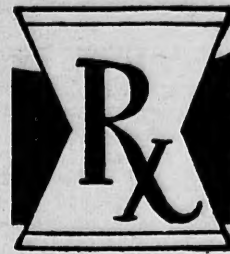

He is presently assembling candidates for appointment to the committee and will submit the nominees to the selectmen soon.

The selectmen are in agreement with the manager on the matter, Austin stated.

Without vegetation, topsoil can be blown or washed away. On slopes where 60 percent of the area has grass, bushes and trees, about 90 percent of the rainfall is retained by the earth.
